

Newsletter July to September 2010

Thank you so much for keeping up with us and I hope you enjoy.

It's always a challenge to know where to start with a newsletter as the days are packed with the unusual. There are even some days I hope will be less eventful just so I can catch my breath. However it doesn't always work like that, and it is often when we think we have nothing more to give that there is an unexpected situation needing attention. And I believe that God knows that it is in our weakness, His strength works best in us. I hope in sharing together we will continue to strive to live lives that serve others and live life abundantly.

Quite a lot of things happened this past three months, and I am just too limited to paint the whole thing in words. July was stressful working hard to meet the deadlines, and the fact that I will be away for sometime was a real challenge for us. Things got messy along the way but it worked out well. I also want to thank those of you who have supported and prayed for me as I travel to Hawaii for the BWA congress. The BWA has been a wonderful platform for me to learn, grow, and get connected with amazing people globally, and I'm truly humbled for the opportunity. So many people to thank but I know I won't be able to do justice trying to mention names. My God who sees and knows my heart will surely bless you.

Challenges

Along with huge blessings, also come huge challenges. While I was away, one of our women passed away. Though she didn't get to live a beautiful life, I'm glad that her last days were beautiful with friends around, people encouraging, and praying for her and someone by her side feeding and taking care of her needs. Thanks to all those of you who shared in our grief, stood by us and prayed for us.

Three of the women left the Centre. We are grateful of their selfless services, though for two we are sad that their journey ended with a bad note. Our prayer goes out for them each day. Anung left for marriage and we are super excited for her. Excited that quite a few wedding bells are ringing in Miqlat family.

Ellen a hardcore drug addict, a prostitute, homeless, found sleeping near the railway tracks two months ago, is today blooming and recovering very well. She is learning to make candles, weave and stitch. Her battle is tough, and as always we want you to join hands in prayer of victory for her.

you prayed God answered

You prayed for Miqlat's car and counselor, and today God has blessed us with a car through a very generous family and a very efficient counselor. I'm still at awe of God's choicest blessings we experience each day because we are together in this praying.

A father and daughter reunited after 20 years. Her mother died giving birth to her. She grew up with her granny and ended in the dark aisle like many other young girls. God brought her to Miqlat, and ever since then we have been praying to God to reunite her with the father whom she never saw and know. We have no idea how things happened but whatever happened was very beautiful, a real life movie. God brought the father and daughter together.

Join In prayer

We are organizing "Echoes of Love" a musical concert on the 18th of November 2011 in aid of Miqlat staff support for 2011. Please pray for God's anointing even as prepare for this.

A lot of women are coming in but we have to turn them down due to limited space and resources. Pray that God will break the hearts of the Churches here in Nagaland that the church will learn to see beyond and respond to the need of the hour.

Pray for release of resources as we plan to construct a bamboo house for emergency shelter before the year ends.

The people we are ministering and the issues we are dealing is God-sized issue in need of divine intervention. Pray for God's anointing on the outreach team, strength, and courage from above.

Pray for wisdom, creativity, understanding, patience and discernment for me and my colleagues as we continue to take the frontline knowing that the battle belongs to God.

Thank you!!

Our hearts are filled with gratitude when we think of you all. We are able to stay in a nice spacious place because you are supporting, praying, and cheering us even when we are going through the most difficult times and never giving up on us. Thank you for trusting and investing your time, energy, wealth, prayers, and your best to make this journey possible

Thank you for standing with us in all situations, cheering us in our victory, listening to us when we share, praying for us at all times God reminds you of us, like family crying with us in our grievances and offering shoulders to lean on when we are tired and weary, encouraging us when we feel like giving up, supporting us generously financially and materially to keep the work going and spiritually guiding us and keeping us on track. Had it not been for you all, Miqlat Ministry could not have stand tall and high as it is today. I hope our quarterly newsletter helps you to come along with us and encourages you to continue on with the wonderful journey we have started together.

Because you are praying we are enjoying the fruits and vegetables of our garden, our products, our pig is growing and we love it.

Thank you for taking time to read and pray.

Many blessings!
