

Newsletter July 2011

Dear friends,

I hope this email finds you. It's been a long time since we last communicated.

I was at the Green Lake Convention Center at Green Lake, Wisconsin from May 23-27 to attend the International Christian Alliance on Prostitution (ICAP). I had a wonderful time, and it was refreshing to share my heart, my passion, and my struggles to people who have the same heart and passion as me. It was also a blessing to hear so many wonderful testimonies and work of amazing people globally.

Due to heavy rainfall and our poor drainage system, a lot of our women here are affected by flooding since most of the women that we work with live in the flood-affected area. So this is a huge challenge for us. Because of the flooding, one of our women had to vacate her house in the middle of the night with her seven children, and go and sleep on a railway platform. So we are also trying to do a lot of relief work, but we are so limited, which at times is so frustrating when there is so much need. Continue to pray for our women, especially those affected by the flooding. Sadly, they are the invisible group of people in our society.

Please know that we truly value your prayers and support, and we continue to thank the Lord for each one of you.

Remain blessed!

Asha Sanchu
Director, Miqlat-Nagaland